LEAVES A LETTER

When He Discovers He Is Under Suspicion, He Writes of His Crime.

Washington, Nov. 27.—As a sequel of the death of Miss Margaret Hale on Monday last at a sanitarium at Brentwood, Md., from the results of an operation, and the arrest of Dr. Joseph V. Ohlendorf, head of the institution, on a charge of murder, Robert F. Hale killed his wife and then committed suicide. Hale left letters confessing he was responsible for the girl's death and professing repentance.

Miss Margaret Hale and Robert Hale were both employed in the government printing office. They were not related, but passed as cousins.

Gives False Certificate.

When Miss Hale died at the Brentwood sanitarium Dr. Ohlendorf issued a certificate giving the cause of death as heart disease. The local authorities, however, considered the circumstances suspicious and Chief of Police Sylvester of Washington was asked to investigate, and as a result Dr. Ohlendorf's arrest followed.

About midnight Wednesday the local authorities received information of the arrest of Ohlendorf and two detectives called on Hale, who was known to be an intimate friend of the dead girl, for information about the case. He was in bed at the time, but dressed and received his visitors. He denied that they ever had been anything but the best of friends. He was cool and collected, and the detectives left under the impression that Hale was innocent.

Plans Murder and Suicide.

Thursday morning about 6 o'clock Hale put on a bath robe and went to the front door for the morning papers. He read the account of Miss Hale's death, including a paragraph stating that an employee of the government printing office was under suspicion and soon would be arrested. He put the paper aside, went to his desk, and wrote several letters. Then he took a drink of whiskey, and getting his revolver, returned upstairs.

Two hours later a neighbor passing by the house noticed the house dog sitting on the door steps howling dully. The neighbor entered the house, and in a bedroom on the second floor found the bodies of Hale and his wife. There was a bullet wound in the woman's left temple and Hale had the top of his head blown off. He had lain down in bed with his wife, drawn the covers over both, and then, with one arm free, killed her and then himself.

Tells of His Disgrace.

From letters left by Hale it is thought when he was downstairs he intended to kill himself only. One note reads:

"I have disgraced myself; I have disgraced my wife, the dearest, best and noblest woman in the world. I write this that all may know she is not to blame in any way, shape or manner for my peridy. She is too proud; too noble, and too honorable. If I had done as she always wanted me to, the end would not be as it is—death and disgrace for me."

In a letter to his wife Hale wrote: "To Fannie: You are the best woman in the world, but unfortunately you married a degenerate. Think kindly of me sometimes, as there are few virtues that are mine. Have my remains cremated that there may be neither name nor remembrance of me. You will find all your papers in the tin box. Collect the insurance from the National Union and Equitable Life."

In view of the notes it is supposed that when Hale entered the bedroom his intention simply was to kill himself, but the sight of his wife and the thought of the revelations unnerved him and made him desperate. He was a Mason, 52 years of age, and had some property.

Asks Money of Millionaire.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 27.—Col. James C. McComb, a millionaire of Claymont, has received a letter in which it was demanded that he give $5,000 to John Veal for the purpose of being turned over to the writer of the letter.

Paris, Nov. 27.—Speaking at a reception at the Elysee Palace to the British arbitrationists, today, Premier Combes commented on the recent Anglo-French treaty and said: "Possibly the day is not far distant when both nations will agree to submit all questions, however important, to arbitration." He gives all praise for the treaty to King Edward. President Loubet also expressed his gratification at the agreement, and hoped the example set by Great Britain and France would be speedily followed by all other nations.

Former Army Captain's Term in the Leavenworth Prison Will End Tomorrow.

Oberlin M. Carter, ex-captain of engineers, United States army, who has served three years and seven months of a five-year sentence in the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, will leave the prison Saturday morning a free man. He intends to go directly to Chicago. Carter declines to be interviewed, his attorneys warning him to say nothing. A Washington dispatch says:

Oberlin M. Carter, formerly a captain in the army, was sentenced to five years in the Fort Leavenworth prison for harbor work frauds at Savannah, Ga. He has been in charge of the flower garden at the prison. He has been a model prisoner. After he had been in prison a year the prison officials made him a "trustee" with permission to go outside the prison walls without a guard. Captain Carter refused to avail himself of this privilege. He said he did not wish to be embarrassed by meeting brother officers, who under the army regulations could not speak to him.

Indiana Girl Having Smallpox Causes
Anger Among Farmers.

Flora, Ind., Nov. 27.—Miss Ella Michaels, who contracted smallpox by visiting her sweetheart, Orel Burgess, while he was suffering with the disease, broke from quarantine, fled across country and reached her own home in Burlington. On the way from the James home, where she had been employed as a domestic and where also she had been quarantined, she stopped at the houses of several farmers. It is feared she spread the infection and there is much indignation among those she exposed to the possibility of taking the disease. The health officers are making an effort to quarantine all whom she met.

CAPTURE THE MURDERERS

Car Barn Robbers Are Arrested, After a Desperate Battle with the Chicago City
Detectives in the Wilds of Northern Indiana—One Detective Is Badly
Shot—Trainmen Killed by the Desperate Men.

(Special By Scripps-McRae.)

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Armed with deadly magazine guns and supplied with an almost unlimited supply of ammunition, three men, identified by several officers as Peter Niedemier, Harvey Van Dine and Emil Rooski, three of the car barn murderers, for whom every policeman in Chicago has been looking for since the confession of Gustav Marx, that they were implicated in the barn crime and other murders to the total of six, are creating a reign of terror in the marshes, sand dunes of northwestern Indiana. Since daylight they have wounded two Chicago detectives, one probably fatally, and have killed a brakeman on the Fort Wayne train. From fugitives the police learned they were seen in Hammond, Ind., Thanksgiving day, and seven Chicago detectives were sent to that city last night. When they arrived the trio had disappeared, but soon were located near Miller's Station, where they had barricaded themselves in a dug-out. The detectives assisted by a posse of farmers, surrounded them but feared to descend upon them until daylight, owing to the deadly marksmanship of Van Dine and Niedemier. All during the night both sides kept up a desultory fire, but when daylight came the pursued opened fire in earnest on the pursuers and shots were exchanged. An appeal was hurriedly sent to Chicago for reinforcements and fifty of the best shots of the department were hurried to the scene on a special train.

A few minutes before the arrival of the posse the fugitives made a dash for liberty. They were pursued by the posse and the three fugitives returned fire when Detectives Driscoll and Zimmer fell, the latter probably fatally wounded. Pursuers then fell back while the leader of the trio, Van Dine, covered the retreat of his two companions down the railroad track. At Tolleston they held up a Fort Wayne railway engine, killing the brakeman, G. J. Savio, who attempted to prevent them from boarding the engine which was in charge of the fireman. Placing revolvers to the latter's head they compelled him to carry them to Liverpool where they jumped from the engine and cut across the country.

Immediately upon the arrival of the reinforcements at Miller Station they repaired to the scene of battle, but when they appeared there the quarry had escaped; squads of five were formed and sent out in all directions to hunt down the murderers. Up to one o'clock no further word has been received from pursuers. Chief O'Neil is confident he has men enough to bring the men in dead or alive. The flight at the dugout was of the most desperate character, with every natural advantage on the side of the fugitives. The dugout was closely concealed in a heap of underbrush and it was to be hit while lying in their barbed wire. On the other hand the detectives and farmers were in the open and had no protection beyond a small incline near the railroad tracks. When the police and posse started to close in at seven o'clock, Van Dine and his companions met every move with a volley. The shooting became so hot the officers were compelled to hide behind the tracks. Two hours later the men emboldened by the success in standing off the pursuers crawled from beneath the brush and dashed down the tracks, Van Dine running backwards and firing at the posse while his comrades fled ahead. He kept up fire until a quarter of a mile away, where he joined his pals.

DENY THAT THE
PRINCESS ELOPED

Relatives Locate the Missing Princess in a Small Italian Village.

Rome, Nov. 27.—Princess Alice of Schoenburg-Waltenburg, who was said to have eloped with her coachman, is reported to be living inconspicuously at Sorri, a small village nine miles from Genoa. Her relatives, including the Princess Brancaccio, formerly Miss Field of New York, declare that she is simply living in retirement pending the outcome of her suit for a separation from her husband, and she has taken the name of her maid, Materni, because she does not wish to be known in Sorri. The maid is the wife of the coachman with whom she was thought to have eloped.

Strong a Hold in Tibet

St. Petersburg, Nov. 27.—The newspapers regard the British expedition to Tibet as an attempt to stir up a movement in China under cover of which the powers will increase their spheres of influence. China is therefore appealed to not to deprive itself of Russian intervention, which saved it on other occasions.

The Novoe Vremya said: If the British succeed in carrying out their plans Tibet will be in their hands, as they will always be in a position to threaten Lhasa, and if they gain control of the holy land of Tibet 500,000,000 Buddhists will regard Great Britain as being the most powerful country in the world. While it is impossible for the weak Tibetans to prevent the British crossing the Himalayas it is quite possible for others to compel them to stop, by creating a slight diversion in some direction disagreeable to the British politicians.

The Proposal To Hold Two Sessions
Daily Leads to Scene of Wild Disorder.

Budapest, Nov. 27.—Scenes of indescribable confusion marked today's session of the lower house of the diet. The proposal to hold two sessions daily were vehemently opposed by members of the extreme left, and several of them were suspended for disorderly conduct. Finally the premier, Count Tisza, called attention to the agreement between the different parties on rules of procedure. "You have put all the advantages of that agreement into your pocket," shouted Nicolas Bartha. "Better not speak of pockets," retorted Count Tisza, whereupon Bartha shouted: "I am not a broken bank director."

Deputy Garjary added to the disorder by jeeringly shouting to Count Tisza: "You have been called a scoundrel."

Immediately there was a rush of deputies toward Garjary, and, a fight appearing imminent, the sitting was suspended.

Kenosha People Use Hose Against Telephone Company's Employees.

Kenosha, Wis., Nov. 27.—Water from four lines of hose in the hands of citizens drowned out the telephone workmen. They retreated ignominiously and made no further attempt to set poles. The Kenosha Independent Telephone Company took advantage of the day to attempt to run its lines on Ashland avenue. The property owners protested to no avail. Then they filled up the post holes and threatened the workmen with violence. The men persisted in the face of threats, so the citizens resorted to the water cure, which was effectual.

Scofield, Utah, Nov. 27.—An attempt was made by striking Italian and Finn coal miners to roll a boxcar down the railroad tracks leading through a deep canyon through which a party of railroad and mine officials were coming. The attempt was prevented by the militia, and several arrests were made.

One of the sentries at the mines near Scofield was fired upon from a house from which a red flag had been displayed until taken down by the militia. The culprit was not caught. An ugly feeling seems to be growing rapidly among the strikers.

GUARD THE MINES.

Increased Military Force Is on Duty at Cripple Creek.

Cripple Creek, Col., Nov. 27.—The military force in this district has been increased and a close guard is maintained at all the large mines that are being operated with nonunion men. Nine of the men who had been confined at Camp Goffield since last Sunday have been released, but several new arrests have been made and there are still ten prisoners in the bull pen, including C. G. Kennison, Sherman Parker, and W. F. Davis, members of the Union Stock company.

The full facts regarding the attempted wrecking of the Suburban, Florence & Cripple Creek train on Nov. 17, have been disclosed. It appears that a detective in the employ of the railroad company was one of the three men who removed the spikes and fishplates from a rail. The other two men, it is alleged, were Charles McKinney and Thomas Foster, who are under arrest.

One Man Confesses.

It is said that McKinney, when confronted with the detective, confessed his share in the plot under promise of leniency. Two agents of the railroad were in hiding within twenty-five feet of where the crime was being attempted.

These men were heavily armed, but did not shoot, for to have done so would have endangered the detective's life. Foster's friends assert that he will be able to establish an alibi.

Although General Sherman Bell declared that he had information of a plot to blow up the state house and assassinate Governor Peabody and himself, Governor Peabody said that he had not heard of any threats or plots of that nature.

Miners' Official Is Arrested.

Telluride, Col., Nov. 27.—Guy Miller, president of the Telluride Miners' Union, No. 63, Western Federation of Miners, has been arrested and placed in the county jail with seven other union men. The charge against Miller has not been made public.

Four Are Burned to Death in Destructive Blaze at Omaha—One Man Is Killed at Cincinnati.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 27.—Four firemen were burned to death and property valued at $300,000 was destroyed in a fire in the wholesale grocery house of Allen Brothers, Ninth and Jones streets. In addition to the big five-story building occupied by the Allen Brothers, that occupied by the Pacific Storage Company adjoining was consumed, with most of its contents. The names of the four firemen killed are: Leroy W. Lester, William Burmeister, Lu Goldborough, William A. Barrett.

The fire is supposed to have originated in the furnace room of the Allen building. The flames were first seen when they broke out on the second floor. The buildings were filled with the most inflammable class of material and after the roof fell in the blaze shot far into the air and dense volumes of smoke, illuminated by the fire, rolled still higher.

The firemen who, perished were working about thirty feet inside the Allen building when the floor above unexpectedly collapsed, catching the men with no chance of escape and with no possibility of their comrades rescuing them. The bodies were not recovered.

New York, Nov. 27.—A wholesale lock-out of union cabmen occurred last night and this morning; thirty-five lively stables are doing no business at all and twenty-two cabmen in greater New York are out of jobs. The lock-out is the result of three hundred cabmen to refuse to arbitrate their differences. The cab question has today become as great a question as the street car strike in Chicago was last week. Hardly a wheel on a public cab is running and all the hotels are without their customary service. It is thought non-union drivers will be employed.

It had previously been announced that she was suffering from inflammation of the ear and her condition yesterday was announced as better but that her ear was bothering considerably. It is now authentically stated that she had been poisoned and that some of her suite died from the effects of the dose which they took by mistake. Strychnine was the poison used and the czarina has been very ill for some days past.

More Than a Hundred Animals Are Deserted by Cottagers.

New York, Nov. 27.—James E. Welsh was considerably shocked when he received word from Mount Tabor, N. J., that at least 100 cats had been left behind by cottagers who had spent the summer there. Mount Tabor is a Methodist camp meeting ground, and as he is a Methodist he could not understand how the good people could go away and leave their pets to starve and die. With visions of wealth and unnumbered cats he started out, accompanied by his gas machine, shotgun, long-haired cat and net and various other paraphernalia which belong to an animal taker. When Welsh arrived he found cats in all stages of starvation, but they were wild and ferocious, and do the best he could, he was only able to bag a baker's dozen.

SEASON ENDS FOR FOOTBALL MEN

PRINCETON NOW THE PREMIER OF THE EAST.

MICHIGAN LEADS THE WEST

Minnesota Has as Good Record, But the Wolverines Have the Preference.

Thursday closed the football season for 1903—closed it with a blaze of glory for Michigan and Minnesota in the west, and for Princeton in the east. It has been a strange season. Quicker games and strange reversals of form in both east and west have developed as the number of games increased and the end was approaching. Wisconsin, poor Wisconsin, has gone down in defeat before the three great rivals of the west and tied with a little school of whom nothing was expected. The Midway dancers of Prof. Stagg have played fair ball but have ended far in the racks of the victorious Michigan and Minnesota teams. Northwestern has perhaps made more gains than any other team, despite their overwhelming defeat by the Indians yesterday. From a clearly second-rate team Coach McCormack has developed a sturdy lot of youngsters who have held both Wisconsin and Chicago to the games. While the western championship is still in doubt the honors would appear to lie with Michigan despite the tie game at Minneapolis.

In the East Princeton holds the undisputed championship of the east. The tiger-of-New Jersey men are jubilant and poor Harvard and Pennsylvania must take a back seat with Yale until another season comes for them to try again. Pennsylvania's showing against Cornell yesterday was such a surprise yesterday that it is even now a question why the Quakers did not do better against the stronger teams it played earlier in the season.

Strained Relations It is probable that the present feeling against Minnesota on the part of Michigan may lead to a breaking of the football relations in the future. Wisconsin has spoken in this manner also but this more is not thought to amount to anything but talk and the games will be played each year as usual. Minnesota may go to the Pacific coast next week to meet the University of California team and Yale may take his Wolverines east next season to meet one of the big five teams.

LEVI ROSS WAS BURIED, THURSDAY

Well Known Resident of Rock County Was Laid at Rest Yesterday.

Levi Ross died Sunday afternoon at 1:30 at his home, 121 North avenue, after an illness of but little over two weeks. He was taken Nov. 4 with what seemed to be an attack of the grip, but did not give up and go to bed until Sunday, Nov. 8. His trouble developed into typhoid pneumonia and from the first his recovery seemed doubtful. He was somewhat better last week, but had a sinking spell Sunday morning and passed away soon after the noon hour.

Mr. Ross was born in Rockton township a few miles southwest of Beloit May 8, 1861. When he was about 6 years of age his parents moved to a farm in Shirland where he grew to manhood and lived until five years ago when he removed to Beloit.

Since coming to that city Mr. Ross had been engaged in carpenter work and painting. Last February he was united in marriage to Miss Nellie Brown of Emerson, Neb., who survives him. He also leaves his parents.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Mr. Ross was a member of the local assembly of the Equitable Fraternal Union and his is the first death loss the organization has sustained here since its organization in the spring of 1900.

Funeral services were held at the house Wednesday at 10 a. m., and the interment took place at Shirland cemetery. Rev. Hanson of the Beloit Baptist church officiated.

FIRST BIG SALE MADE TO RAILWAY

Quantity of Janesville Cement Posts Purchased by the St. Paul Line.

The first sale of cement posts manufactured in this town to the railroads occurred last Wednesday when the St. Paul line purchased a large quantity for use along its right of way. The quantity bought was sufficient for fencing over twenty miles long and while the number of posts is not so great, the sale is an important one as it indicates that the roads are considering the use of the new post and that in all probability, sales of much greater magnitude will result. While the success of the new industry is not dependant upon the attitude of the railroads of the country, purchases by them will vastly increase the output and capacity of the concern as the steam lines would be the largest customers. In time the Janesville, traveling eastward or to the Pacific coast will feel at home throughout his long journey, for Janesville fence posts will flank on both sides the train which carries him over the fertile prairies of his "waterland."

Two more outside brewers who are doing big business in Janesville have decided it would be wisest to pay the license and avoid further legal entanglements. Wednesday, the Schlitz Brewing company, and the Val Blatz Brewing company, both concerns having business in Milwaukee, turned over to the city treasurer five hundred dollars each. This makes a total of fifteen hundred dollars received for licenses which last until next July. It is believed that the remaining outside brewers will now come to terms without further parlying.

McLay Brothers have also left for the big show with nineteen head of Clydesdales, a large number of these horses being prize winners and are well known to the judges at the International. Altogether Janesville will contribute as many, if not more blooded horses to this show as any other in the country. The total value of the Clydesdales, Percherons, Suffolks and Hackneys which will be exhibited from Rock county in the show ring next week in the Windy City will aggregate many thousands of dollars.

Lynn Pritchard, who is but 13 years of age, is proprietor and publisher of "The News," a four-page newspaper published semi-monthly and devoted to witty sayings, short stories and funny happenings of public interest. It is a bright little sheet with a page 7x5 1/2 inches, and is in keeping with its youthful publisher. The young man commenced work on the publication in 1901 before he could write and his copy was blocked out and printed. The material, including the cuts, are entirely original, this being the feature, little short of wonderful, for a 13-year-old boy.

THURSDAY'S SHOW PLEASED MANY

Weary Willie Walker is a Laugh-Maker—Audience Enjoy Performance.

The roaring, screaming farce, "Weary Willie Walker," delighted everyone who witnessed the two performances Thanksgiving day. "Weary" was a whole show in himself and kept the audience convulsed from the rise of the curtain until the last minute of the show. The several solos by the lady members of the troupe were delightful and the singers were encored to the echo. Perhaps the best feature of the entertainment was the acrobatic specialty work of Abe Aronson and Harry Ashton. Several new "stunts" were introduced for the first time in Janesville and the act was generally pleasing.

PRETTY WEDDING HELD WEDNESDAY

Miss Mackin Married to Sidney Northrup, at St. Patrick's Parsonage.

A very quiet wedding occurred Wednesday morning at the St. Patrick's church parsonage, the contracting parties being Miss Alice Mackin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mackin, and Sidney Northrup, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Northrup of this city. Both the young people are well known in this city, the bride having lived here all her life. Mr. Northrup is employed in the train service of the C. M. & St. P. Ry., and has a large acquaintance among the railroad men. A wedding breakfast was partaken at the home of the bride's parents on Dodge street and the young couple left on the 7:30 a. m. train for Clinton, Ill.; they will also visit St. Louis before returning to take up their residence here at 204 Locust street.

EAU CLAIRE IS NOW CHAMPION

The Fort Atkinson Team Did Not Show Up Thursday, and They Claimed Title.

Eau Claire won the championship of the state for high school football teams yesterday morning. Fort Atkinson forfeiting the game which was scheduled by the state board of control of the interscholastic association to be played at Camp Randall at 9:30 o'clock yesterday morning. At a meeting of the board and representatives of the two schools, Fort Atkinson refused to play the game in Madison. The board decided that the game be played there and ruled that if Fort Atkinson failed to appear the championship be awarded to Eau Claire.

At 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning the Eau Claire team appeared on the field, while the Fort Atkinson team failed to put in an appearance. A game was played with a Madison team and Eau Claire won by a score of 16 to 0, merely toying with the opponents. There is great enthusiasm among the Eau Claire people over the team and it is believed in that city that the team is one of the best in the country.

Badly Injured: Drs. Dindley and Palmer were called Wednesday afternoon to attend to the broken arm of Archie G. Saylor, a student at the telegraph school. While fooling with some friends on the sidewalk, Saylor was pushed and losing his balance, fell to the street. His arm was fractured and the ligaments torn.

Woman's Fire Brigade.

The town of Armdale, New South Wales, has a woman's fire brigade that has earned distinction in numerous encounters with the flames. A dozen or more young women form the brigade, electing one of their number as captain. They drill with the town brigade appliances, and are capable of rendering assistance to the male firemen when necessary. They are expert in rescuing work with the life-line and with the jumping sheet.

Saved from Disaster.

The Chinese, if superstitious, are adroit. It was in a naval battle when a Chinese vessel was threatened with disaster. Suddenly a spirit appeared and the enemy was destroyed. "To whom am I indebted for this supreme favor?" asked the polite captain. "I am the Spirit of the Target," replied the savior, "and when you were young you often fired at me, but you never hit me. Hence the favor I bestowed."—Lowell Courier.

St. Paul Road.

The railroad men who attended the funeral of the late John J. Welch yesterday morning were very indignant at an occurrence at the five points crossing. The Chicago passenger on the St. Paul had been held back, the gates were up, and half of the rig had passed over the tracks when an engine with a few cars came steaming up and heedless of the signal of the flagman cut the line in two. This was a violation not only of custom but of an explicit rule which compels even fast trains to wait on such occasions. Several horses were frightened and a serious accident might easily have happened.

Freight train No. 72 between Janesville and Milton, No. 91 between Milton Junction and Janesville, and Nos. 61, 65, 67, 192, and 194 have been abandoned. A new time card goes into effect next Sunday.

A summary of the reports of the Texas railroads for the year ending on June 30, 1903, as made to the railroad commissioner of that state shows that the total tonnage of grain hauled was 3,411,000 tons, as compared with 1,900,000 tons hauled during the preceding year. The crude petroleum traffic in 1903 was 952,000 tons, as compared with 569,000 tons for 1902. There were also increases in the cotton tonnage and in the tonnage of live stock.

CROP CONDITIONS IN WISCONSIN

SUTTER BROS. RECEIVE LETTERS OF CONDOLENCE.

CURING IN OTHER STATES

The Present Tobacco Crop in Warehouses is Generally Satisfactory.

Beyond some scattering sales in the outlying sections there has been no movement in new leaf. In old, however, there has been some trading in fair sized lots. Light rains have fallen, but not sufficient to bring the hanging leaf into case. It seems from the figures of the assessors' crop reports that the increase of acreage planted in tobacco is not so great as was supposed. The total for 1903 is 37,738 acres, as against 36,173 in 1902 and 34,019 in 1901. Considering that the yield per acre is rather light, it is somewhat doubtful if the 1903 crop would yield any more cases of desirable leaf than that of 1902.

Shipments out of storage from Edgerton for last week amounted to 953 cases.

A Week Later in New England While the acreage planted this year is about the average according to the statement of the Journal correspondent, it is expected that the total yield will be somewhat light, owing to the plants not having attained their full growth. The weather has been exceptionally favorable for curing and the leaf is turning out a good color.

Most of the crops are still in the barns, as growers are awaiting a suitable damp spell to begin stripping. Prices are held rather high, growers being of the opinion that there will be a heavy demand later for all desirable crops. Very little of the 1902 crop is left.

In New York The market has been quiet in this part of the country during the past week. No sales have been reported, though there are plenty of prospective buyers around inspecting the crop. The Onondaga crop is said to be of better quality than usual, though the quantity.

St. Louis Market Conditions The Sutter Bros. branch house in St. Louis is unusually active, and the business is being conducted in the regular routine, under the direction of the receivers. Telegrams and letters of regret are pouring in by the bushel from the many friends and customers of this big house. The local tobacco market can be put down as quiet with the exception of retailers, who are already doing quite an advance holiday business. A little cold wave, which still prevails has awakened people to a realization that the holidays are in close proximity. In leaf, matters are a trifle quiet. As previously reported, buying for immediate delivery dropped off earlier this year than usual and most trades effected are for future delivery.

The recent large failures in the trade have also induced many to hold off on buying until it is determined how the immense stock of the bankrupt concerns is disposed of. The bargain hunters are on the qui vive for developments. The jobbers report an unusual amount of cigar sales, to country dealers, who are preparing for holiday trade.

LAST GAME OF THE SEASON WON

Janesville Defeated Stoughton by a Score of Six to Nothing.

Several hundred people braved the frigid November weather to witness the Janesville boys win for the last time in the football season of 1903, defeating the eleven from Stoughton by a score of six to nothing. The game was a long drawn out one for the spectators, there being numerous delays and weather conditions were not propitious for much enthusiasm. The team work of the combination was not so good as the for eleven lineup, but the individuals put up a good game. Although the visitors played a good offensive game, they could not do much with the Bower City men.

Wednesday afternoon the senior football team in an easy game, defeated the junior eleven and won the Denison cup.

STATE NOW HAS 5,423 INSANE

A Gain of Two Hundred and Forty-Eight in the Past Sixteen Months.

The hospital for the insane in Wisconsin have 5,423 patients under public care as against 5,175 on June 30, 1902, an increase of 248 in 16 months according to the report of the state board of control. Of that number 3,924 patients are inmates of the 30 county asylums in operation.

The state hospital for the insane at Mendota has 403 inmates; North-east hospital for the insane, Winnebago, 630; asylum at Milwaukee 499. The ratio of the number of insane to the total population of the state is one to 400, while in 1892 investigation showed the ratio of one to 473.

The Milwaukee county asylum with 220 inmates has the largest enrollment of any county institution. The number of inmates in the 30 county asylums follows:

MOLASSES FOR HORSES

Recently scientific tests have been made as to what is the best feed for horses that are unthrifty or sick. Instead of feeding them oats or corn, Molasses Feed is given with the most gratifying results. A horse that weighed 900 pounds gained 40 pounds in two weeks on a molasses diet, and in a month he had added nearly 100 pounds to his weight. All signs of disease disappeared and his new coat of hair was glossy and beautiful. This experiment was but one of hundreds, all showing the wonderful curative and health-giving properties of Molasses Feed. Farmers, breeders and others who own horses should give the Molasses Feed a test. It is cheap, and if as represented by scientists, it can re-make and re-build run-down horses. It will prove invaluable to owners of horse flesh. This feed for sale at

Coming Attractions.

CALENDAR AT MYERS GRAND
Nov. 30—"Dare Devil Dorothy."

Never was there such a bewitching dare devil as the one from whom the play "Dare Devil Dorothy" takes its name and which Manager Myers presents Nov. 30th, at Myers Grand as his greatest offering of the year. Dorothy adds her beauty and femininity to a character of reckless bravery that would win admiration for that quality alone. Undaunted by almost unsurmountable obstacles of fate and fortune through her very pluck she conquers the evil influences that are working against her and saves the man whose love she returns. Such is the entrancing little theme that runs through the play and weaves the warp and woof to a production of more general interest than anything seen upon the stage heretofore. Everyone will find their favorite form of amusement delicately combined with been shown in this attraction everywhere that Manager Myers feels especially fortunate in having secured the attraction for an engagement in this city.

The Great Creator, whose name has become synonymous with all the grace and ease characteristic of the Italian race, will appear at the Myers Grand next with his wonderful Italian band. During the past few months this Italian leader has sprung favor into the American music loving public until his name bids fair to rival that of Maseng and Padorewski. His soul is of music and during his concerts he lives in an atmosphere that knows nothing else. While his twists and turns and other movements in many ways are amusing and would make a contortionist turn green with envy yet the auditor cannot help feeling that there is a genuineness behind it all, and that Creator, while going through his gesticulations and antics one week's vacation work will be resumed again.

J. A. McArthur, W. A. Dean and Will Clark shipped about two hundred head of sheep to Chicago on Monday.
Dean, Paulson and Roberts are shipping their beets from Avalon. Many loads pass over the new road daily.
Miss Lydia Yandry has gone to Cold Spring to visit her sister; she will be gone three or four weeks.
Jake Larson is wearing a smile these days and rejoices that he is a Mystic. He has just received $100 from the order in payment to him for a broken arm he has been nursing for some time.

LABOR TALK FOR WORKMEN

Employees of the Union Stock Yards at Chicago, Ill., have already collected over $10,000 for their labor temple, where the various unions comprising the 45,000 organized men and women engaged in that particular industry and divided in numerous trades and occupations can have a meeting place of their own.

German employees in the iron, steel and engineering industries are embarking upon a contest for the institution of a nine hour day and a minimum wage, and they have appealed to the Amalgamated Society of British Engineers for assistance. The engineers' Executive council propose to accede to their request.

The Building Contractors' council of Chicago, Ill., through its secretary has issued a call for a national convention of building contractors' councils and contractors' associations to meet in Chicago, December 10th, to form a national association. The object of the new organization will be to make joint agreements between contractors' councils and labor unions to prevent strikes and lock outs and to settle all disputes by arbitration.

The strike of the Erie railroad's union boilermakers and their helpers in all the shops on the system between New York and Chicago is now complete. The officials of the company refuse to take back the recently discharged men and give the entire shorter hours, and the prospects are that there will be a labor fight to the finish.

Peace has been arranged between the steam laundries and the labor unions at Spokane, Wash., and a new scale has been signed for the coming year. The old scale expired September 1 and the laundry workers demanded a raise. The drivers will be advanced from $2.50 to $3 a day.

The management of the local branch of the American Car and Foundry Company, of Terre Haute, Ind., which has given steady employment to 900 men for many months, is in a controversy with the Car-builders Union and only the blacksmith department is at work.

Assistant Secretary of Agriculture N. Y. J. P. Brigham recently addressed the National Grange of which he was Master for nine years. He urged the farmers to take a firm stand against "tyranny" of labor and capital. Both, he said, were threatening problems which the agricultural class could solve.

Peace negotiations looking to an amicable settlement between the management of the Chicago City Railway and its striking employees have begun and indications are that both sides to the controversy will agree to submit their differences to arbitration.

The Executive Committee of the National Association of Agricultural Implements and Vehicle Manufacturers, in session in Chicago recently, adopted a resolution favoring the "open shop."

The Wabash Railroad has issued orders making a 10 per cent reduction in its machinery department. The men affected are in Decatur and Springfield, Ill. and Ft. Wayne.

Farm laborers in Mexico may be employed at from eighteen to twenty cents a day, though in many parts of the country they are scarce and unreliable.

The striking street car motormen of Waco, Tex. have returned to work.

Do you feel mean, cross, all out of sorts, no ambition, all broke up? Rocky Mountain Tea will make you strong, healthy and robust. 35 cents, tea or tablet form. A. Volss' Pharmacy.

Mirrors Cause Women to Strike.
Strange to say, a lot of girls employed in a New York factory lately went on a strike because they were too many looking glasses in the room in which they work. But the glasses were not for their use; they were so arranged around the desk of the foreman that he could keep a watch eye on them.

Turf Champions.

Waterboy and McChesney
May Yet Meet in a Match Race.

Waterboy and McChesney, the respective champion thoroughbreds of the east and west, may yet meet in a race before they are retired to the stud. The former will not be shipped to the farm this year, but will be placed in training next season.

J. B. Haggins' champion is recovering speedily from the injury he received while in training for the Brighton cup at Brighton Beach, New York. While galloping slowly over the Sheephead Bay (New York) course a week before the big event Waterboy suddenly went lame. Jack Joyner, his trainer, immediately stopped him in his work. A rest and the application of lotions to the sore parts relieved the big black of his pain, and the signs of lameness gradually disappeared. He is now practically well and with a winter's rest will be in grand shape again to try for the turf honors of next year.

"Speaking about the plans mapped out for his horses next season Joyner said: "Waterboy will not be sent to the farm this year. He will remain at Sheephead Bay all winter. When the time comes he will be entered in all the important stakes and handicaps for next season. He will not be entered extensively, only among the most important fixtures.

"If he starts training he will certainly start in some if not all of them. One thing is certain, however, he will not race unless he is physically perfect. I would not care to have him beaten by an inferior horse just because he was not up to his best mark. He is a grand horse, and when at his best he is the equal of any thoroughbred in the country."

As E. E. Smathers has signified his intention of entering McChesney in all the big spring handicaps and weight for age stakes, the chances are bright for a meeting between the champions—the best two thoroughbred race horses in America today.

Lovers of a good horse will be glad to hear that Hamburg Belle, winner of this season's rich Futurity and the "queen of the fillies," has recovered from the severe kick she received while standing at the barrier in that race. The hock of the near hind leg was badly cut and bruised, and only close attention on the part of Joyner saved her from blood poisoning and permanent lameness. She is in good shape again, and only a few years are left to remind her trainer and visitors of the painful ordeal she went through before she won the most valuable prize of the year.

Joyner has had a most fortunate year in many respects. He has not only trained the best four-year-old colt and the best two-year-old filly in the east, but he has developed two of the best apprentice riders of the season. In Callahan and Boiesen he has two boys that give great promise. Neither has had many mounts during the year, but whenever they did ride they used good judgment and managed to steer their mounts without a blunder and to the best advantage of owner and bucker. Recently they have had more work. Trainers in search of jockeys who can ride at a light weight have frequently offered the lads a chance to show their ability. Both have "made good."

FITZ AND CORBETT.

Their Fight Talk Is a Reminder of Days Past.

It is somewhat reminiscent of other days to hear Jim Corbett and Bob Fitzsimmons exchanging fight talk with a vigor that suggests that "something may be doing" before long. No other two fighting men in the world ever participated in such a long and arduous exchange of personalities. For years they were at it while a disgusted community listened and bewailed that they didn't fight and end it all. But they eventually did fight, but the result of that encounter hasn't convinced Corbett that Fitz is his master, and the consequence is that they have commenced the argument all over again, looking toward a possible match and a fight in the not too remotely distant future. Jim has thrown down the gauntlet, and he wants another shy at the man who punched his laurel wreath through his solar plexus.

"Fitz is the one particular gentleman I am banking on," said Jim. "I chased him around the country for four years, and I'm after him again. He'll fight me when I say he will. He'll have to."

Cats on Ocean Liners.
From eight to twelve cats are part of the equipment of every great ocean liner, and these same pussies duly appear on the ship's books, where their rations are accounted for. Each cat is stationed at a different part of the ship, and certain stewards are told off to feed them daily. There is not a little rivalry between different stewards when the respective merits as rat catchers of different cats under their charge are being discussed.

Water and Wine.
A man has a cask of wine containing sixty gallons. He draws out one gallon and then puts a gallon of water into the cask. Each day for sixty days he draws out a gallon of the mixture and puts in a gallon of water. At the end of sixty days how much wine and how much water has he in the cask?

Some Janesville People Have Learned How to Get Rid of Both Backache and Kidney Ache are twin brothers.

You can't separate them. And you can't get rid of the backache until you cure the kidney ache. If the kidneys are weak and strong the rest of the system is pretty sure to be in vigorous health.

Doan's Kidney Pills make strong healthy kidneys. Mr. E. Dillenbeck of 120 Milton avenue, retired farmer, says: "My wife was troubled with kidney complaint for four or five years and complained in pains in the small of the back in the region of the kidneys. The symptoms all indicated that the kidneys were deranged and the doctors who treated her said that those organs caused the disturbance. As she did not get any better we thought Doan's Kidney Pills might give her relief, on procuring them at the People's Drug Store, I had her use the remedy. I did for her all that could be expected. We can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills and you can use our names as saying what has been stated above."

BORT, BAILEY & CO.

...Forty Years Ago...

Janesville Daily Gazette, Friday, November 27, 1863.—We devote a large portion of our paper today to the publication of the sermon of the Rev. Mr. Thompson at the Baptist church yesterday. It is a production of unusual merit and in publishing it, we follow our own inclinations as well as comply with a request from many who heard it. All the exercises at the church were of unusual interest, to which the good news from Gen. Grant's army, read from the extra we published, added a deep, heart-felt rejoicing.

Chattanooga, Nov. 25.—7 p. m.—We are completely victorious. The enemy totally routed and driven from every position. Our loss is small. The enemy's loss is heavy. Finding Hooker so successful in his movements against Lookout Mountain, the enemy evacuated that position during the night, and Hooker took possession this morning, and now occupies a position somewhere near the battlefield of Chickamauga. He expected to intercept the flying enemy. Gen. Hooker captured not less than 2,000 prisoners in his magnificent assault of Lookout Mountain. Gen. Sherman made two successful attempts to capture the north end of Missionary Ridge, but finally with the assistance of the whole corps he gained the position and completed the victory.

At about 3 o'clock p. m., Gen. Grant sent two columns against the weakened center of the enemy and after an hour's desperate fighting succeeded in breaking their center and gaining possession of the entire ridge on which the enemy was posted.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The army of the Potomac moved, early yesterday morning, towards the Rapidan, and headquarters moved at seven o'clock. The army advanced in three columns to cross at as many different fords.

The Government of God. Our Ground of Rejoicing—A Sermon Preached on Thanksgiving Day, at the Baptist Church, by Rev. Chas. L. Thompson.—Psalm xcvi, 1st verse. The Lord reigneth; let the earth rejoice.—Once more the sun, Time's flaming index, has swept on its elliptical path around the star-gemmed dial of the universe. Forward through the weeks and months and year, with an unhalting motion and the strength of God's right arm for its weight, that clock, whose magnificent wheels all immensity, has measured off one more circle of time; and beneath yonder eternal dial the earth, like a mighty pendulum, has swung through the dead leaves of last autumn, up to the leaf-bound hall of winter, back again with brightening sweep, through flashes of spring, forward into the warmth and fruitfulness of summer; and now once more, with rapid movement, back through leafless boughs and withered fields, it bears us toward the falling flakes and cutting blasts. Oh! how to the mystic beat of a million suns, is Time travelling upward to Eternity.

Several matters are necessary deferred until tomorrow.

A POLITICAL REVOLUTION

The Wall Street Journal discusses the question of political revolution and forecasts the national campaign of 1904. The paper recognizes the fact that Bryan is no longer a disturbing element, and that the democratic party will present a united front with financial interests and the great corporations as backers, while the republican party deprived of this support will be forced to advocate government regulation of railroads and industrial companies.

The paper also predicts that Roosevelt will be opposed by capital in the national convention because he has antagonized interests which are regarded vital.

In summing up the situation the paper says:

"Now to what does this situation point? It points first to an effort to defeat the nomination of President Roosevelt by the national republican convention. Undoubtedly, the financial interests, alluded to would prefer to maintain their old association with the republican party, which stands for policies which they have long cherished, it being the party of sound money and of the protective tariff. But, in the event of the republican party nominating President Roosevelt and endorsing his policies of publicity, of moderate regulation of the corporations, and the enforcement of the law against them, there are unmistakable signs that these financial interests are ready to transfer their allegiance to the democratic party, provided it will nominate a candidate and adopt a platform acceptable to them.

There are indications that the democratic party is ready to do this. It has already to some extent got rid of the incubus of Bryan. The overwhelming defeat of Johnson in the recent Ohio election was a Waterloo for the Bryan element of the democrats party.

The election of McCrellan in New York city has given encouragement and strength to the eastern and conservative wing of the party. The return of Mr. Gorman to the United States senate and his leadership of the democratic forces there, are part of the revolution which has taken place in the control of the policy of the democratic party. It is within reason to believe that, tempted by the prospect of obtaining the financial support of powerful business interests, of securing a return of gold democrats who voted for McKinley in 1896 and 1900, and of creating some diversion of republican votes for their candidate, the democratic party may enter the presidential campaign with a "conservative" platform, both acceptable to the financial interests now antagonistic to the Roosevelt administration.

The next campaign therefore would thus present the strange spectacle of the republican candidate and platform representing a policy, not indeed of assault upon the money power, but as a supporter of measures intended to prevent further concentration of financial power. In other words, it would be the "radical" party, while the democrats would be the "conservative" party. One would appear in large measure to the growing feeling that the principle of combination, restriction of competition and communities of interests have been carried far enough while the other would represent the view of these financial interests who believe that the prosperity of the country depends upon their having their own way.

The progress of such a contest would be of extraordinary interest and the result would be a demonstration of the power of the financial interests to control the elections in this country.

THE PASSING OF MORGAN

The New York Press evidently thinks that Morgan is a back number as the following extracts indicate.

The American says that the cancelling of the contract with J. P. Morgan & Co., to convert $250,000,000 of steel preferred stock into bonds marks the passing of Morgan that Morgan has been eliminated as a ruling power and that he must hereafter report to Rockefeller and may be called on to restore the profits of the syndicate operations; that Rockefeller has indicated his control of the steel situation by arranging to take the latter company at the head of the steel corporation; that in return for lower export rates on steel the railroads will receive a concession in rail prices.

The Journal also says that President Cassatt, of Pennsylvania is at his wits ends and conferred at the Waldorf with important financiers and may make a statement in Philadelphia today.

The World says that the filing by the Mercantile Trust Co., of a petition for a permanent receiver for the U. S. Shipbuilding Co., was a preliminary step in the plan of Schwab and his associates to stop the hearings before Examiner Oliphant in the suit of complaining bondholders to have a permanent receiver appointed and that the trust company has taken steps to file a petition for a permanent receiver in every state in which there is a subsidiary of the U. S. Shipbuilding Co.

While the president may have gained the ill will of combines, he stands close to the people, and they are largely in the majority. His nomination will be by acclamation, and his election will record one of the largest majorities ever given to a presidential candidate.

Governor Odell and Senator Platt of New York, smoked the pipe of peace, while they stretched their legs under the White house table. This is significant and means harmony in the ranks of republican leaders in the Empire state.

The Chicago Street car strike goes merrily on, and at best there promises to be a good many scars when the trouble is adjusted. Arbitration is a good word to conjure with, but it is not always effective.

The turkey is a proud bird this year. He not only roosts high, but he has climbed up in price where competition is rivaled. A flock of turkeys is better property than a drove of sheep.

Judge Baensch is an American before he is a German, and a republican before he is a factionalist. He is entitled to loyal support in the interests of good government and party harmony.

The Panama canal project has suffered nothing by the acts of Colombia. The waterway will be built, and on more favorable terms, by dealing direct with the new republic.

The prospective union of the two Methodist churches is a move in the right direction. Janesville has too many weak churches for the good of the cause.

The new government building is a credit to the city. It is modern in design and equipment and strictly up to date.

The county is to be supplied with rural routes before the first of the year. This will be good news to the farmers.

There is an ominous silence in the vicinity of the executive chamber.

Were you thankful yesterday, and did you go home sober.

PRESS COMMENT.

Necedah Republican: Judge Baensch is one of the strong, able men of the state, and with a record that is clean and good.

Wausau Central Wisconsin: La Follette stock has declined about 50 per cent since the announcement of the candidacy of Judge Baensch.

Racine Journal: Possibly the Thanksgiving turkey with stuffed oysters may open up the bowels of compassion of our governor and permit him to consider that the almighty did not construct men to think all alike.

Evening Wisconsin: The overcrowded soldiers' homes are the result of advancing years. As the veterans grow older they become less helpful to themselves and require assistance, especially during the winter.

Milwaukee News: Of course, it will prove gratifying to Gov. La Follette to learn that the grand jury that has been called to meet in Milwaukee among other things is going to investigate legislative corruption "susceptible of proof."

Kaukauna Sun: Just previous to the deer hunting season the young ladies of Florence started an organization known as the Unea de Beau club. The dispatches did not state whether or not a hunting license was all the credentials necessary for an introduction to the dear ladies of Florence.

Antigo Republican: George Bishop, of Rhinelander, former member of the board of control, who has been seriously ill for the past year, is now in a fair way to complete recovery. He is now at his home in Rhinelander. His improved condition is a source of much pleasure to his many friends.

Menasha Record: And now one,

Ellis B. Usher is predicting that President Roosevelt will fail to renomination, will have the experience of President Arthur. Judging from the success of the Hon. Ellis' previous political predictions, we think it safe to bet on Roosevelt without even democratic opposition.

Madison Journal: The Eau Claire county board has found it necessary to oust a member for making a contract for the county in which he was himself interested. There was no particular scandal but the action illustrates the strict sense of right and justice that prevails in these bodies. Would there were more of this spirit in higher councils.

Appleton Crescent: The La Follette faction of the republican party in this district is looking for a man to defeat Congressman Miner. It is believed that Mr. Kratnerman of Brown county will be settled on as the candidate. In every district in the state La Follette is making a bitter fight against the renomination of stalwart congressmen. It will be the same in this district.

La Crosse Chronicle: The attempt of the governor's organs to circulate the impression that Judge Baensch was selected as a candidate because he is a German, and a little foolish at that is an insult to the German-American citizens of the state of Wisconsin. It is no crime to be a German and Judge Baensch is one of the distinguished citizens of the state of Wisconsin.

Wausau Central Wisconsin: Judge Baensch has assured his friends that he will stand for the nomination of governor. Now let the state press drop all references favorable or unfavorable to La Follette and unite to secure the nomination of Judge Baensch and it will be done. As long as the papers advertise La Follette they will keep him prominently before the people. Drop him and he will sink by his own weight.

Hartford Press: Judge Baensch of Manitowoc, as a new candidate for governor on the republican ticket, seems to meet with favorable mention on all sides. We must, however, except the Milwaukee Free Press, which is so lost in Gov. La Follette as to be unable to see that any other man possesses any quality that will enable him to fill the place in which the governor seems to have settled down for a comfortable and indefinite stay.

Milwaukee News: Evidently from the reports from Madison that Gov. La Follette may make a stand for Congressman Cooper for United States senator and for a third term for himself, the governor has not forgotten how to deal shrewd hands in politics. It will probably make that political hero, John C. Spooner, the sire of the Baensch movement, complain that La Follette is dealing from the bottom of the deck and falling back on the ill health of his family as an excuse for failing to get busy when action on the firing line begins.

BRAVE DEED OF BERNARD PALMER

BROUGHT FORTH CHEERS FROM SPECTATORS THIS MORNING.

PLUNGED INTO LAKE MONONA

To Save Two Drowning Boys—Former Member of Wisconsin Crew the Only "One Who Dared."

Bernard Palmer of the city of Janesville proved himself a brave man this morning. An eager crowd of friends and strangers pressed about him with words of admiration and cheers as he clambered out of the icy waters of Lake Monona, on to the bank, and hurried to the passenger train waiting on the St. Paul tracks.

Saved Two Lives
His act was worthy of the encomiums of praise that were showered upon him. The 9:40 train with a number of tardy football enthusiasts on board was just getting under way from the Madison depot and passing what is known as the "triangle" of Lake Monona, when Prof. Kehl looking out of a window and surveying the surface of the lake, saw a boy struggling to get out of the hole in the ice and another smaller lad making ineffectual efforts to aid him. A cry was soon raised in the car and the conductor seized the rope and stopped the train. Bernard Palmer was the first to spring from the coach and was soon speeling towards the scene of the disaster. Two boys owe their lives to him tonight.

Breaks Through the Ice
Mr. Palmer ran out on the treacherous ice about 120 feet and had nearly reached the place where the elder of the two lads had fallen in when the younger one, in attempting to extend a shiny stick to his unhappy companion, also broke through the ice. As the Janesville man tore to the edge of the hole to throw it to the boy, the treacherous footing gave way under him. A few powerful strokes brought him to the younger lad and in a few moments he had placed him on the safe ice.

Sinking Third Time
As he climbed out of the water, which is about twenty feet deep in that locality, he looked about him and saw the other boy sinking for the third time. Without a second's hesitation he plunged into the water again and in a few moments, with the aid of the boll-rope which the conductor had cut from the locomotive, the two were pulled ashore.

Would Take Charge of Boys
The two boys were hurried to the train where the lady passengers who had watched the exciting work of rescue from a distance, immediately took charge of them. Warm blankets and hot drinks were secured and all were soon working with energy over the little fellows. The older one was in a precarious condition—and it required much rubbing and chafing to revive him from the lethargy into which he had fallen.

The Train Goes Back
Mr. Palmer's friends hastened to procure dry underclothing and clothes for him, and with the passengers all aboard once more, the train started back to Madison. The boys were taken care of at the depot and after a few moments' delay the interrupted journey to Janesville was resumed.

TWO THOUSAND DEER WERE KILLED

Rough Estimate Places This Number
as the Total for the Year
Just Closing.

Estimated on the number of stags returned to the office of the state fish and game warden, the number of deer killed in the state this year is about 2,000, not so many as last year. The open season will continue for a few days longer, Monday the last day of November being the last day on which it will be lawful to take the animals, then a day or two grace is allowed for the hunters to ship their game home and the season is tightly closed again for another year.

Chicago and Illinois parties have been fortunate in the woods this year. Many of the deer shipped out of the state are to Chicago. Carl Mueller, author of the celebrated Mueller Chicago traction bill, has brought venison home with him. Likewise has Dan Johnson, Sheriff of Joliet, sheriff of Will county, Illinois, has shipped one deer to his home. He is the biggest man to take out a license this year. He is six feet, three inches tall and weighs 300 pounds.

The number of non-resident hunting licenses issued this year today reached 360. The county clerks of the state have taken over $1,000, resident licenses for issue to residents, and scarcely any of the clerks have 50 of the blanks issued.

MILTON JUNCTION TO INCORPORATE

A Meeting with This in View Will Be Held on Saturday Evening
Next.

The germ of incorporation which has for years been making itself felt at Milton Junction bids fair to materialize now in a sure thing. A meeting of the citizens has been called for Saturday evening at 7 o'clock sharp. The meeting is to be held in the Milton Junction law office of Dougherty and Palmer, in the Seeger block, and should be attended by every property owner and resident of the village. For years the sentiment of incorporation has been growing in the community and the necessity for it has become more manifest. The general opinion is that the villages have reached a crisis and must either advance or go backward. There appears to be little doubt of the willingness of our citizens to assist in booming the town by incorporating, nor are funds to be lacking, several have already made offers of from $5 to $10 for the purpose.

PLAN COURSE OF SEVEN LECTURES

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR WARD, OF
Y. M. C. A., ARRANGES SERIES.

TO BE HELD BEFORE CLASSES

Janesville Doctors Will Speak on Appropriate Subjects at the Association Building

Physical Director Ward of the Y. M. C. A. has planned for a series of interesting lectures on timely topics in connection with the gymnasium work of the association, to be given by a number of Janesville physicians. Each talk is to be short and informal and will be held in the gymnasium hall directly before the regular classes.

A Department in Work
Mr. Ward stated this morning that the idea was now in this association, but that it had been tried in different forms in other cities. The object of the lectures as stated by him this morning is "that men might be more familiar with their bodies they are developing and more thoughtful in the care of them."

Short Talks of Interest
The lectures will be free to the general members of the association and will be held on Mondays, beginning at 7:20 p. m., and lasting until 7:45, when the regular graded class work starts. The course now includes seven discussions, the first to be on December fourteenth, when Dr. M. A. Cunningham will give a practical talk on the lungs.

Other Doctors to Speak
"The Stomach" will be the subject discussed by Dr. Buckmaster on the evening of December 21st; Dr. E. E. Loomis will speak on the heart on the 28th of the month; and on January 4th Dr. James Mills will talk on personal purity.

"The Eye, Ear and Nose" will be lectured upon by Dr. A. L. Burdick on January 11th; and Dr. L. L. Leslie will speak on the care of the teeth January 18th. Strains, sprains and breaks will be discussed by Dr. J. H. McCarthy on the 25th of January, which lecture will end the course.

Appropriate Subjects
Mr. Ward selected the subjects with great care and allowed the physicians to select whichever one they desired. While the course is given somewhat as an experiment, it is believed that much interest will be taken in the work and the director plans to arrange for another series next year which may be more extended and of wider scope.

SENDING STOCK TO THE BIG SHOW

The University of Wisconsin Will Have an Exhibition at Chicago.

Thirty-three sheep will be shipped from the Wisconsin University farm to Chicago for exhibition at the International Live Stock exposition, Saturday evening two Clydesdale sires will be sent for entry in the 2 to 3 year class.

The stock is in charge of Fred Kleinheinz, the university shepherd, and Hostler James Hutson. Of the instructional force, Professor George C. Humphrey, W. B. Richards and J. R. Danks will be present throughout the exposition, Nov. 23 to Dec. 5. A dozen senior and special students of the long course and somewhat over a hundred second year short courses will also attend, arriving in Chicago Tuesday noon.

Professor Humphrey will assist in the judging of shire class horses. A large number of students will compete in general stock judging.

HARNESS THIEF GETS SIXTY DAYS

Mock Trial at Meeting of Westminster Club, Causes Much Merriment.

At the last meeting of the Westminster club held at the residence of Rev. Henderson last Friday, a mock trial of especial interest was carried out. I. Tracy was prisoner, arrested on the charge of stealing a halter from Mr. Henderson's barn. Jerome Davis and Fay Edgington were the attorneys for the plaintiff and Rob Jansen and Roy Scott represented the defendant. The Rev. Henderson acted as judge. E. Mead was the only witness brought into court. The prisoner was convicted and sentenced to sixty days. Following the trial the members were treated to an oyster supper by their host and hostess. The members of the Westminster club are enthusiastic over the organization and the meetings at Mr. Henderson's are a great success.

John J. Welch
The funeral of the late John J. Welch was held from St. Patrick's church at 10:30, Thursday morning, Rev. James McGinnity officiating. The Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the Order of Railroad Conductors attended in a body. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were: J. M. Abbott, R. J. Kelly, J. J. Leahy, G. R. Bykes and P. J. Holloran. The honorary pallbearers were: J. J. Dulin, John Queney, D. Davey, C. H. White, M. J. Marlon and C. R. Nossling. Interment was made at Mt. Olivet.

Mrs. William O. Kline
The funeral of the late Mrs. William O. Kline was held from St. Patrick's church at nine o'clock Thursday morning, Rev. E. M. McGinnity officiating. There were many beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were: Daniel Sheridan, Jas. Stack, Martin Costello, James Connors, William Murphy and James Bernard.

--A Tip to You--

Our struggling competitors having realized that they are being handicapped by SHURTLEFF'S PERFECTED BOTTLING SYSTEM have of late been bottling UNPASTEURIZED MILK in UNSTERILIZED BOTTLES, (ofttimes Shurtleff's bottles,) in an absurd attempt to gain the exorbitant public's approval.
No milk should be bottled in unsterilized bottles. WE HAVE THE ONLY BOTTLE STERILIZER in the city. Sterilized bottles are absolutely clean. Pasteurized milk is absolutely PURE. Pure Pasteurized Milk can only be obtained from the Shurtleff Company's wages.

ODD FELLOWS GIVE A PARTY

They Held a Pleasant Gathering at Their Hall Wednesday Evening.

The Thanksgiving entertainment and dance given by the Odd Fellows Social and Benevolent club at the West Side Odd Fellows hall Wednesday evening was a great success and was attended by two hundred members and their families. A delicious supper was served shortly after six o'clock after which the program of the evening, occupying an hour and a half, was carried out. The affair was informally arranged but proved to be one of the most enjoyable given by the society for some time. The opening number was by the orchestra and this was followed by a piano solo given by Miss Olive Trambille. Several gramophone selections were given by F. H. Koehlin, and the orchestra composed of the Paul soloists gave a selection. A vocal solo by Miss Anna Schwartz and a piano solo by Miss Tolles. Mrs. Winifred closed the entertainment with a vocal solo and the remainder of the evening was spent dancing.

"Your daughter does a good deal of it. I don't know whose work it is, or who is mistress here; that is what troubles me, father. I spoke to Abby one day about something that wasn't quite right in my bedroom, since then she has never entered the room. I do it myself, or I did, until Wan saw me, and took the work out of my hands. What did Abby do, before I came?"

"Well, she pretty much ran the house, that is a fact, and I was too lazy to keep her in order. I'm too lazy to discharge her now."

"They are all pretty much of a muchness," Mr. Bingham expatiated, uncomfortably. "They all make a point, the American ones, of sitting at meals with you, or being asked to. If you had thought to ask Abby to sit down with you to luncheon, sometimes, when you were alone, that would have made it all right. Now she thinks you set yourself above her, which the more you are the less she'll acknowledge it, of course. She's on her ear, now, about some trifles. I suspect you are a bit too particular about trifles. Young housekeepers are apt to be. I know she slams around the house as if she'd been brought up in a boiler-shop, but she has her good points. You'll get used to her."

"There seems to be no question of her getting used to me," said Faith, with rising temper. "If she makes any distinction at all between us, it's entirely in favor of herself. And, father, I'm ashamed to have such a looking woman about the house, so frightfully dressed, and so made up. Why, she doesn't look respectable!"

"Oh, well, that's her little privilege, to fix herself up to suit herself. I don't admire all that powder and paint, but she does, and it's her own face."

"But there are such nice-looking girls at Wallace," Faith pleaded. "You've never tried anybody but Abby, have you? She has been here too long, and it's hard for me to begin with a woman who has never had a mistress—so she gives me to understand. Of course we can't discuss it to-night, but do think about it, father."

"Mr. Bingham promised to think about it. As Faith closed the door, he took up his newspaper with a sigh, but threw it down again emphatically on hearing the brass tones of Abby, talking loudly as she entered the dining-room by way of the back hall. Mr. Bingham got upon his feet, and fled from the wrath to come."

"He was in here. I heard them talking. I bet they were talking me over. Perhaps he's stepped into her room. Set down, and I'll see," Miss Steers said briskly. A young man with a hard but not dissipated face, with his hat well planted on the back of his head, had followed her into the room.

"Don't be in a hurry," said Peter Banning. He had taken his stand between the door-curtains, and his eye, roving from room to room, rested with true admiration on the showy dinner-table.

"Big dinn's to-night, eh? The old man puts on a heap of dog. What's all this truck for, anyhow? Three silver forks to every plate! How many knives an' forks an' spoons an' pickers does a man want on an average to eat his dinner with? I know claps us good as Bingham that's eatin' theirs off a tin plate with a rusty case-knife, and durn glad to get it. I say, Ab, the whole of this camp could be fed and clothed with what goes to waste off this table."

"No, they couldn't," said Abby, flatly. "I know what they spend in camp, and I know what they spend. He don't spend so much as he looks to; they don't eat their silver forks. The things they put the dinner in costs more, in this house, than the dinner, ten times over."

"That's sure," Banning gloomily agreed. "But we've got to eat; we can't live on the looks of things. Why should we be diggin' and sweatin' underground, and he be gettin' big money for doin'—the Lord knows what! Who would these forks and spoons belong to, I'd like to know, if everybody got their rightful share?"

"Aw, you men always arg' from your stomachs, as if eatin' and drinkin' was all there is to it! How'd you like to be me, and have to set and eat all alone, 'less you eat with the Chinaman, and have a little stuck-up school-girl tell you: 'Abby, put on your apron.' Put on your apron! I guess I can dress myself without any advice from her. You needn't laugh. I tell you I don't want to live in no country where one woman can tell another woman to put on her apron. She's had woman; too much talker-talker—all time talker. I no talk. By 'm by tell you."

"Say, Miss Bingham! Wan came a step nearer, and lowered his voice discreetly. "You snub one nice man, Da'cie—all same miner, all same boss!" "Has he got a partner named Mike McGowan?" asked Faith, sitting up straight in her chair.

"Same man, same name! You snub all light. Mrs. Bingham, you tell Abby—tell Mike McGowan—tell Da'cie—come see you to-night?"

"What!" "You want see Da'cie, all self 'lone, 'leven o'clock to-night?" "What are you saying?" "Miss Bingham," Wan approached still nearer as his manner grew more excited and mysterious; he was evidently much wrought up over the communication he was making—"I tell you one little thing you no tell Abby? Abby heap mean 'wite woman."

"Go on, Wan; I will not tell Abby. What is this thing, for pity's sake?" "Miss Bingham, Abby talk Mike McGowan, all same good friend—Abby say, lady want see Da'cie all self 'lone 'leven o'clock to-night. You tell Abby say that?"

For by what I could observe in many occurrences of our lives, that which we called giving advice, was properly taking an occasion to show our own wisdom at another's expense.—Lord Shaftsbury.

Men rarely succeed in changing the world; but a man seldom fails of success if he lets the world alone and resolves to make the best of it. It is easier to climb a mountain than to level it.—Lord Lytton.

Unnecessary Sacrifice of Life.
The average human life is said to be thirty-three years. It is also stated that one-fourth of the people of the earth die before they are six years old, one-half before they are sixteen, only about one per cent in every hundred live to see sixty-five.

Queer Bird.
A woman, charged at West London with removing a goose from a poultry-er's shop in the Uxbridge road, explained to the magistrate that she took it for a lark. His worship, however, expressed his doubts about the bird, and remanded the woman pending investigation. It turns out it was a robbing, after all.—Judy.

Probability.
The opponents of football as a part of the college course never seem to consider the fact that the football player would probably never be a valetudinarian, anyway.—Washington Times.

No Pattern Required.
The 6-year-old daughter of a certain naval officer was unconsciously ludicrous the other day. The child was sewing when her older sister asked: "Why don't you use a pattern?" The little miss replied with dignity: "I don't need a pattern. I sew by ear."

Some Gigantic Insects.
The largest insect of antiquity was a species of dragon fly, which measured more than two feet across the expanded wings. It flourished during the Carboniferous period. In the Mesozoic age representatives of the older groups of insects were numerous and often of gigantic size.

ALWAYS TIRED NEVER RESTED

To be tired out from hard work or bodily exercise is natural and rest is the remedy, but there is an exhaustion without physical exertion and a tired, never-rested feeling—a weariness without work that is unnatural and shows some serious disorder is threatening the health. One of the chief causes of that "Always-tired, never-rested condition" is impure blood and bad circulation. Unless the body is nourished with rich, pure blood there is lack of nervous force, the muscles become weak, the digestion impaired, and general disorder occurs throughout the system. Debility, insomnia, nervousness, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, strength and energy, and the hundreds of little ailments we often have are due directly to a bad condition of the blood and circulation, and the quickest way to get rid of them is by purifying and building up the blood, and for this purpose no remedy equals S. S. S., which contains the best ingredients for cleansing the blood and toning up the system. It is a vegetable blood purifier and tonic combined, that enriches the blood, and through it the entire system is nourished and refreshing sleep comes to the tired, never-rested, body.

Cure for Seasickness.
Homeopaths are said to have discovered a certain remedy for seasickness in apomorphia, a very small dose of which, taken once an hour in water, will remove the qualms.

Truly Marvelous Feat.
Pliny states that Cleero once saw the entire head of Homer contained in the shell covering of a specimen of the forest fruit. By many this was long believed to be a fiction. They declared it was impossible; but that it could be done was proved conclusively by Bishop Huel of Avranches, France, in the presence of the French Dauphin and a royal company.

Plague Inoculation.
Of 400 natives belonging to the American mission of Rahuri, Bombay, India, who were inoculated against plague, only one girl caught the disease, and she recovered.

Profit in Freight.
Freight pays the bills. This is true of this country than of any other. Freight revenue is over a billion dollars a year, passenger receipts about $350,000,000. Our average passenger train carries only forty-two people. English people take railroad trips four times as often in proportion as Americans, but shorter ones.

Origin of Plant Superstitions.
The origin of plant superstitions may often be traced to the uses made of the plant, its foliage or flowers. Among the Greeks, the bodies of the dead were crowned with parsley. "He will be in need of parsley" was a euphemism signifying a belief in the approaching death of the person indicated.

Sporting World Review

Heatherbloom and His Jumping Prowess. Facts About High Baseball Salaries. August Belmont Will Race Horses Here and in England.

Heatherbloom, the brown gelding belonging to Howard Willets of White Plains, N. Y., is still secure in his position as the high jump record holder. He has held the record for several years now, as no other jumper has been able to touch his high mark.

The present record of seven feet nine inches, which beats his previous record by one inch, was established at the Bryn Mawr (Pa.) horse show at the fourth attempt. He was ridden by Richard Donnelly, his trainer and the only man who can make him jump.

Mr. Willets claims Heatherbloom is a qualified hunter, but since he has shown ability at the high jump he has been reserved for the show ring. He is a half breed, and, according to Trainer Donnelly, his sire is Simplex.

Credit for Heatherbloom's good showing over the jumps must be given to Donnelly. Donnelly was at one time a steeplechase jockey, but he did not make a great success in cross country events. He has developed most of the really successful high jumpers that have shown in recent years since he took up that sport.

Donnelly has no notion of fear when training a horse for high jumping, even though work of this sort is as dangerous as juggling dynamite bombs.

Doubtless Dan Johnson, president of going—the former to the Boston Americans and the latter to the Athletics. Dineen stuck to the Boston National team for a year, and then over he went. The attempt of Philadelphia to hold Lajoie, Bernhardt and others is still fresh in the memory of the baseball fan. Wolverton Fraser decided to go back, while Delehanty and Orth were compelled to do a lot of dodging last year to steer clear of Philadelphia and Pennsylvania. Delehanty wavered when he needed the money, but the peace agreement knocked his plans in the head, as it did those of George Davis, and these were two players who did not obtain what they were after.

Ned Hanlon is credited with the receipt of the best stipend of any manager, and he receives $10,000 per annum. Next to him is Donovan of St. Louis, and then comes Collins. Frank Selee received more money the past season than ever before in his career. It took extravagant figures to secure Tannehill and Chesbro of the Pittsburghs for the New York American team. Another player who received at least $5,000 was Willie Keeler. Dave Foutz received fully $5,000 last season, although he was available but one-third of the time.

It has been stated as a matter of reproach to the American leader that the pennant has landed in a different city in each of the three years in which his organization has comprised eastern cities, and it is predicted that another city will land it in accordance with a programme for 1904. Doubtless Mr. Johnson would like to see New York land first next season, for any leader of a baseball organization naturally wants to see that happen which is best for it. Certainly a race should be made as hot as possible. The outlook is for a club in New York in 1904 that will make all of the others hostile for the supremacy. Almost every club in the league will be strengthened.

August Belmont's colors will be seen on the turf next season. He will race thoroughbreds in this country and in England.

When the multimillionaire banker and chairman of the Jockey club announced recently that he would sell his race horses and yearlings at auction it caused a mild sensation in turf circles. Many were the opinions advanced for this move. Mr. Belmont said that his various business interests prevented him from giving the stable the close attention that he would like to, but train-the American league, was as solicitous as any one for a peace arrangement with the National league, as salaries had advanced to such a degree that it was almost impossible for his organization to pay them and live. Manager Collins of the Boston American team, who received $2,400 under the Boston National league club, was signed at $2,500 by the American leaguers, was voluntarily advanced to $5,000 and afterward asked for $7,500 and received $6,500.

"Click" Stahl was another $2,400 man under the Boston National league regime and got a good raise when he signed with Charlie Somers, and his "request" for a further raise at the beginning of the season of 1902 was duly honored. Cy Young got a good raise on the figure he had received from the St. Louis team and subsequently got another advance, Boston, therefore, had one of the highest salary lists in the country. Besides, the owner of the club, Mr. Killilea, spent money unstintingly to keep the team strong.

Pittsburg went even further than Boston in the salary matter. Barney Dreyfuss was contenting himself with the idea that the players of his team would not be approached by the other side, when an inroad was attempted in good earnest, with the result that Tannehill and Chesbro, two of his star players, were wooed from him; O'Connor, his catcher; "Lefty" Davis and Conroy. As soon as he found out that O'Connor had been secured and was doing missionary work among other players of the team the catcher was cast adrift. Dreyfuss induced Leach and Bransfield to remain true to him and succeeded in keeping Wagner in line. Hearing that the American league was desirous of securing grounds in Pittsburg, he got the options on two grounds, all that were available. Boston was partly successful in its attempt to retain its players. It took big money to induce Dineen and Willis to remain with the team instead of ers said that the real cause for his retirement was due to the fact that he was dissatisfied with the poor showing of his horses this year. It was an open secret that he was dissatisfied with Trainer Hild.

Mr. Belmont will return to the turf next year. He will race four horses—Magistrate, Mizzen, Lord of the Vale and another colt. Johnny Hild, his former trainer, will not have charge of the horses. Instead of Whalen, who has looked after a number of his yearlings and developed the speed of the "second string" for Mr. Belmont for several years, would be the new man at the stable hand.

J. Watson is the English trainer who will have charge of Mr. Belmont's American bred horses. There are now four youngsters in his charge which will be shipped abroad by Mr. Belmont. These youngsters, which will be two years old next year, consist of colts and fillies. They are well engaged in the important stakes. It is said that the English stable will be re-enforced by several additional American bred youngsters from his Nursery Stud farm in Kentucky.

Jockey John Bullman is under contract to ride for Mr. Belmont. It has not been definitely decided whether Bullman will pilot Mr. Belmont's thoroughbreds in this country or in England. It would not be a matter of surprise if the jockey was sent abroad.

Boxers Coming From England. A quartet of well known boxers has sailed from England for the United States looking for bouts. They are Pedlar Palmer, George Dixon, Jack Roberts and Al Follows, all clever top notchers and well known on this side of the big "herring pond."

A Work Horse Parade. A work horse parade was held in connection with the Kansas City horse show and proved to be one of the most attractive features.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

The dirty faced boy evidently wants the earth.

A woman's favorite word is always the last one.

A woman's idea of a secret is something worth telling.

When a fleet goes on a cruise the crews go on the fleet.

As a rule an heiress is more interesting than she looks.

A bolt in the pot is worth two on the back of your neck.

No man knows what it is to be a woman—and ought to be glad of it.

Soon the rural young man's fancy will turn to thoughts of husking bees.

It is easier to imagine the world owes you a living than it is to collect it.

Probably babies talk that way because they want to gush their lady friends.

"Whatever is, is right," says Pope. So a woman must be right when she says she is.

Yes, Alonzo, it's easier to get a girl to love you than it is to induce a tailor to trust you.

Women are bound to have the last word—even if they have to turn to the last page of a book first.

At first a girl wants but little here below, but she no sooner gets him than she wants the earth.—Chicago News.

TRUTH AND FALSEHOOD.

To be caught in a lie is to be mentally black-balled by the catchers.

To tell lies about oneself is bad, but to falsify regarding another is an unpardonable act.

The person who is popular is the dependable person. The end of the habitual liar is ostracism.

Men and boys may lie fluently, but they are practically shy of a girl whose word cannot be depended upon.

Also, it is so easy to be detected. Nemesis is forever dodging the steps of the liar, and there is no sin more certain to be quickly found out.

It is economy to be truthful. It pays. It is dignified. It may offend a few to refuse information desired, but it will offend more to pervert verity.

There are no white lies. Petty lying is contemptible. It is so easy to "infer" that you are a guest of a hotel whose note paper you have begged from a rich friend.

It is so easy to read about a great play and to "infer" you have seen it—to speak intimately of personages whom you know only by hearsay, sight or in a casual way.

To suppress a confided truth is not to lie, but to repress the truth in order to punctuate a remark or magnify your own or another's importance is to cheapen yourself utterly.—New York Press.

MARKET TALK ON CHICAGO MARKET

Fresh Gossip From Closing Reports of the Windy City's Mart.

"And the swing went a little bit higher." So did wheat. Market opened up on stiff cables and a lively demand for the corn by commission houses who had been buying orders from all over the country, and found no great amount of sale. This started local shorts to covering and they put the market above the call price. Selling at that point checked the advance for a little while, but good buying started the price up again and May crossed the 60 cent mark with ease. Northwest receipts for 1,000 cars and made matters rosy for the bulls. A direct Argentine cable saying heavy hail storms were damaging wheat there, was another bullish help. We believe wheat will go considerably higher, and can only reiterate our advice to buy it on any such break as we had on Wednesday.

Corn The market was stagnant and price changes very slight. Cables came higher, but seemed to have no effect in stimulating trade. This market will wake up after awhile and give us a chance to give an opinion. At present it is too much of a scalping affair to hazard a guess on it.

Oats Oats were slightly better and with more action, but not enough to base any particular advance, nor encourage trading.

Provisions failed to hold their opening strength. On the advance, packers were very liberal sellers and final prices were the lowest of the day. Don't see anything to encourage buying as yet.

J.M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

SUITS

If you have a Suit want, we can supply it. Our stock of Women's and Misses' tailor-made suits is at its best. Styles the latest --Prices right.

CLOAKS

Up-to-the-minute garments. Creations that take. Careful selection of styles marks our buying. An eye always open to good materials, which tells more next year than this, in the wearing.

FURS

Women look and look, get thoroughly posted on what's in town, and then return to us. Our Furs are A1 for quality and our prices must be as low as inferior furs are offered for elsewhere, judging from what people say and the way they sell.

Fur Jackets,
Scarfs, Boas,
Muffs, Sets for Misses and Children.

Gentlemen will be safe in selecting something in Fur for a Christmas Present.

Christmas Thoughts.

THOUGHTFUL persons are those who chose their Christmas gifts early, and consequently with premeditation. It's comfortable shopping now, prior to the fast approaching rush—and well lay your selections aside for you until you want them.

In our fine store we have the greatest and grandest stock we ever had, and at extremely moderate prices.</
